DETAILED ACTION

Response to Amendment

1. Applicant's submittal of an amendment was received on December 28, 2004, wherein claims 1-6 were cancelled and new claims 7-12 were added.

Allowable Subject Matter

2. Claims 7-12 are allowed over the prior art.
3. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance: In the Examiner's opinion, a stroller adapted for securely supporting a car seat, the stroller frame having a regular seat having a horizontal seat support and a back support extended upwardly from the rear portion of the seat support, and a car seat fastening arrangement having a connecting unit provided at a rear side of said back support of said regular seat, wherein the connecting unit has a unit connector and a holding belt for encircling holding said car seat on said stroller through said fastening slot of said cart seat, was not anticipated by the prior art, nor would it have been obvious to a person of ordinary skill in this art. Wood et al. ('164) discloses a stroller adapted for securely supporting a car seat, wherein the holding belt is to the horizontal portion of the frame of the stroller under the horizontal seat portion (See Figs. 2-3). Wood et al. does not teach providing the holding belt being provided at a rear side of said back support of said regular seat. There is no teaching in Wood et al. or the prior art to move the position and function of the holding belt disclosed in Wood et al. The present invention's motivation for having the holding belt provided at a rear side of the back support of the regular seat would be to minimize the forward and backwards movements of the cart seat with respect to the driving movement of the stroller and fastening operation of the connecting unit can be simply achieved since the parents are able to easily operate the connecting unit at the rear side of the stroller.

Examiner also determined that there were no double patenting issues between the current claims and the claims in the parent patent, US 6,702,316 B2.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
